

Do you want your wine with? Cheese, oysters or gold?

The inhabitants of Sibarits would be amazed to discover the wide number of followers they have achieved in the 21st Century, because fine food and beverages are no longer exclusive of the elite: the best wines, cheeses and oysters can only be found at the 35 Salón Gourmets, from April 25th to 28th in Ifema Madrid.

Rubén Fenollar, defender of the rice from Valencia with appellation of origin, will cook his famous Black Rice with 24 carats gold and oysters to please the audience, while the jury of the 14 Écailleurs / Sorlut / Grupo Gourmets Oyster Opener Championship deliberates to decide upon who has been the faster and most skillful opening 30 of the precious bivalves. To attend this astonishing show and surpass the Sibarits expectations eating rice with oysters and gold, save the date; Tuesday April 26th in the the 35SG.

More than 800 cheeses competed in the last edition of 12 GourmetQuesos, the Best Spanish Cheeses Championship. This year, in its 12th call, a jury formed by 60 experts will conduct a blind tasting, days 6 and 7 of April in the Wellington Hotel, to choose the 90 finalists that will compete in the 15 categories embraced by the event. The final will take place in the 35SG, Monday April 25th but, as usual, winners will not be disclosed until Thursday, when it will also be revealed which cheese ousts Savel from Airas Moniz –Chantada, Lugo– as Best Spanish Cheese.

Such products need wine, but well chosen and better served, by those professionals participating in the 27 Sommeliers Spanish Championship Tierra de Sabor and co-sponsored by Protos, the winner will represent our country in the World Sommeliers Championship organised by Association of the Somellerie Internationale (ASI). Complex tests and a demanding jury in an event that requires knowledge and concentration as the contestants level increases every year. To find out who will be the Best Spanish Sommelier 2022, save the date; Wednesday April 27th at the 35SG, the final will take place Thursday.

SALÓN
GOURMETS